Studio BGS (Brogi Giorgi Stolfi) & Partners, with head offices in Prato and Florence, was set up in 2002 and can count on a team of skilled professional collaborators including experts in commercial law, chartered accountants, auditors, lawyers, business consultants, executive consultants, planning and strategy experts, economists and junior consultants in business and commercial law. It has direct correspondents both in Italy and many foreign countries.

Together with its team of collaborators, Brogi Giorgi Stolfi & Partners provides consulting services relating to national and international taxation, business law and management for companies operating mainly in the industrial divisions within the provinces of Prato, Florence and Pistoia. Brogi Giorgi Stolfi & Partners was established to deal with all the problems faced by companies, making use of its partners' specialised skills. Their experience in management, which includes work at a multinational level, has enabled them to acquire a significant and extensive consulting expertise.

Today, Studio Brogi Giorgi Stolfi & Partners has the skills and expertise able to supply a tangible and modern solution for the various issues that can arise throughout a company's life-span, regardless of its legal structure (joint-stock company, partnership or individual companies). In this way our effective intervention makes a significant contribution towards the creation of a new business and the creation of business value, supported by strategic investment policies and creating a sound strategic foundation for accounting, financial and organisational management. Our consulting firm has correspondents in the leading industrial countries of the world and in the major Italian cities. English is spoken fluently by all staff members and contacts can be made with French, German and Spanish speakers.
